There's the conditions for you pray peruse 'em.

Petro. Yes there's she is, t'had been no right rebellion had she held off, what thinke you man?

Moro. Nay nothing
I haue enough o'th prospect, o' my conscience, the worlds end, and the goodnes of a woman will come together.

Petro. Are you there sweet Lady?

Luia Cry you mercie Sir, I saw you not, your blessing

Petro. Ys when I blesse a jade that stumbles with me,
How are the articles?

Luia This is for you Sir.
and I shall thinke vpon't,

Moro. You haue vs'd me finely

Luii There is no other vse of thee now extant but to be hung vp cassock, cap, and all for some strange monster at Apothecaries.

Petro. I heare you whore.

Luii. It must be his then,
for need will then compell me,

Citty Blessing on thee.

Petro. There's no talking to em;
How are they Sir?

Petru As I expected, libertie and clothes
when and in what way she will, continuall monies, Companie, and all the house at her dispose,
No tongue to say why is this? or whether will it?
New coaches and some buildings she appoints here hangings, and hunting horses, and for plate and Iewels for her priuate vse, I take it two thousand pounds in present, then for musick and women to read french.

Petro. This must

as when Andrea liu'd.

Coun.w. If ye doe iuggle or alter but a letter of this creed we haue sett downe; the selfe same persecution

Mari. Mistrust him not

Petru By all my honestie

Actus III. Scena j.ma

Enter Rowland & Trani.

Tran. Come ye shall take my councell.

Rowland